PLEASE NOTE: Once we receive your converter it will be a couple of days after the converter is received before you receive a call from us. The average turnaround time is around one week from the date we receive your converter.

Before sending, please drain all the oil out of the converter as much as possible seal it off with a cap package it up well take extra caution around the pilot area that goes into the crank of the motor. Send it to our address listed below with either UPS or FedEx do not use US mail they lose them all the time. Check out a website called pirateship.com, you can save yourself some money there by obtaining a UPS label through them at a much lower cost.
